Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from Proceedings at the Consecration of the Cushman Monument at Plymouth, September 16, 1858: Including the Discourse and Poem Delivered on That Occasion, Together With a List of Contributors to the Monument On the sixteenth of September, 1858, the ardently hoped for consummation of the wishes of the Cushman family took place at Plymouth, when the monument, which they had erected on Burying Hill, in memory of their venerated ancestry, was consecrated at a family gathering, with exercises and ceremonies worthy of the occasion, the first act of the kind ever attempted and performed by the united efforts of the descendants of any of the first-comers of the Plymouth forefathers. This example of filial regard, it is fervently hoped, will, by its successful inauguration and accomplishment, excite in other families inheriting the blood of the pilgrim fathers of New England, a desire to commemorate each and every one of the worthy band of self-sacrificing spirits, who, flying from the cruel persecutions of their father-land, self-exiled to a barren shore, laid among savage strangers the foundation of a great republic the freest in the world a refuge and a home to the oppressed of every nation, clime and tongue.
