Forgotten Books, United States, 2015. Paperback. Book Condition: New. 229 x 152 mm. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from Mexico and the War: United by Nature and Destiny; Neighbors and Friends Forever The lecture is an exposition and an analysis of the most important and timely national and international problems of Mexico. It comprehensively deals with questions of trade and political relations of the Anglo-American and Spanish-American countries. It explains the position of Mexico in the Western Hemisphere in its relation to the United States and the Latin-American Republics, and also defines Mexico s racial characteristics. It specifically presents the salient features of the system of labor under peonage, and methods of education and it presents a most carefully conceived and practical plan to establish the much-needed social, agrarian, economic, political and religious reforms. It narrates the history of the Conquest, the Spanish Dominion, the struggle for independence, the Republic, the Maximilian Empire, the Diaz Administration and the Madero Revolution; the ten days Tragedy, the arrest and assassination of Madero and Pino Suarez and the rise and fall of Huerta s Government, the insurrection of Carranza, Villa and Zapata, and the establishment of the new government of Mexico. The lecture treats President Wilson s policy, the Mediation of the South-American countries, the Monroe Doctrine and Pan-Americanism, and in analyzing the international problems involved, gives a graphic account of the Anglo-American war for the control of the oil fields, the Mexican-American war for the ownership of the railroads, the influence of financial interests - Big Business and Foreign Capital in Mexico - the proposed alliance with Germany, the concession offered to Japan and Mexico s place and duty in the World s War. The lecture presents a definite programme, points out the futility of intervention...
