Are the characters drawn from real people? Did the incidents described so vividly actually happen? Of course not! This is a fictional story based upon activities of fictional people. I did take the liberty of using names that actually existed during this time frame, such as the names of the governor and some other politicians, but these names are fair game for a fictional, historical novel. Otherwise I sat at my typewriter and invented everything. If you want to know the truth of what happened at Polk and McMinn Counties in Tennessee when the GIs came home from World War II then go to the September 8, 1951 edition of Collier's Magazine. According to Wikipedia, Collier s [was] an American magazine, founded in 1888 by Peter Fenelon Collier. It was initially launched as Collier's Once a Week, then changed in 1895 to Collier's Weekly: An Illustrated Journal, and finally shortened in 1942 to simply Collier s. While the original magazine ceased publication with the January 4, 1957 issue, a brief attempt...
